Investment Manager Commentary

Global equity market did not perform well in May, pressured by higher trade tension between US and China. President Trump showed intention to incrase tariffs for goods imported from China if no trade deal is reached soon. To mitigate trade war impact to the economy, US central bank showed a more accomodative stance, prepared to support the economy through its policies. On the domestic side, Indonesia economic fundamentals remain solid, as S&P rating agency raised Indonesia's sovereign rating from BBB- to BBB, supported by strong policy dynamics, low debt level, and manageable fiscal condition. IDX SMC Liquid index in USD fell 7.91% in May, while Rupiah was relatively stable, only depreciated 0.08% to IDR14,268 per USD. Amid global volatility foreign investors posted net outflow of IDR7.3 trillion in the equity market and IDR10.2 trillion in the bond market. Portfolio allocation in Communications and Materials sectors result in positive attribution to portofolio, while allocation in Consumer Discretionary and Financials sectors posted negative attribution.
