Manulife Indonesia

Investment Manager Commentary

Indonesia equity market continued strengthening, JCI rose by 4.98% in July. Optimism for second half economic recovery along with reopening of the economy and hope for government stimulus acceleration support Indonesia financial market performance. Latest data in June – such as consumer confidence, retail sales and manufacturing – are starting showing improvement although they have not returned to pre-pandemic level. In order to support growth Bank Indonesia cut another 25 basis point to 4.0%. July inflation decreased to 1.54% YoY from 1.96% YoY in the previous month. FX Reserves in July hit highest record of USD135.10 billion, exceeding the previous highest level of USD131.97 billion in January 2018. Rupiah weakened 2.35% against USD. Portfolio allocation in real estate and consumer staples posted positive attribution, while allocation in telecommunication and health care posted negative attribution.
