Investment Manager Commentary

Indonesia equity market posted another positive performance in May, where JCI closed higher 0.79%. Market sentiment improved as new Covid-19 cases decreased and various countries are planning to loosen lockdown and begin to open the economy gradually. The market also welcomed plans for additional stimulus from Europe and Japan to support the economy. Indonesia government also raised its fiscal stimulus from IDR405 trillion to IDR677 trillion for economic relief. Domestic economic activity remain weak amid social distancing (PSBB) period, indicated by inflation level that dropped in May to 2.19% YoY from 2.67% the previous month. Rupiah appreciated 1.8% against USD in May to 14,610. Meanwhile India equity in IDR posted negative performance 5.75%, technical consolidation after strong performance the previous month where the market rose 14%. Portfolio allocation in materials and industrials sectors posted positive attribution, while allocation in communication and financials posted negative attribution.
