Investment Manager Commentary

Most of the global equity markets including Indonesia strengthened in November driven by optimism for vaccine development and positive responses on US election results, JCI in USD strengthened by 13.4%. After months of foreign outflow, foreign investors are starting to reenter Indonesia equity market recording monthly net purchase of IDR3.5 trillion. Rupiah strengthened by 3.5%, outperforming other currencies in the region. Amid external and internal stability, Bank Indonesia lowered benchmark rate by 25 basis points to 3.75%. The current account in the third quarter posted a surplus of 0.4% from GDP which is the first surplus since 2011. Portfolio allocation in real estate and consumer staples contributed positive attribution, meanwhile allocation in utilities and IT contributed negative attribution to performance.
