Investment Manager Commentary

Asia Pacific REITs finished November with strong gain on the back of positive news of vaccine. Gains were across the board, all sectors delivering positive returns. Hospitality and retail REITs, the hardest-hit segments during the pandemic, recorded the largest gain in the month over optimism that a COVID-19 vaccine could get the economy back on track. The ongoing optimism over roll-out of vaccines by year-end fueled expectations for a wider recovery by the second half of 2021.
