Investment Manager Commentary

Indonesia equity market recorded a gain in December, while bond market closing the month of December relatively flat, 10Y Indonesia government bond yield rose from 6.09% to 6.35%. Indonesia macro indicators continued showing recovery. The spike in yield mostly driven by global factors as Fed surprisingly announced to speed up the taper and the interest rate hike schedule at the back of surging inflation and consistent improvement in the labor market. Effective pandemic mitigation, high corporate earnings growth and IPO of big players in the new economy will provide supports for the equity market, while ineffective pandemic mitigation remains the main risk to the market. Successful execution of reforms is also a crucial factor to improve investor confidence, financial markets and the economy going forward.
