Investment Manager Commentary

In November Indonesia macro indicators continued showing recovery. New daily Covid-19 cases and hospital bed occupancy rates stayed low as mobility restrictions (with more leniencies in areas with improved Covid 19 situations) and vaccination progress continue. In line with the improving mobility and economic activities, PMI Manufacturing stayed strong at 53.2, although lower than the record high 57.2 in the previous month. Indonesia recorded record high exports of USD22.0b (+53.3% YoY) and trade surplus of USD5.74b in October, thanks to soaring commodity prices. Main drivers were non-oil gas shipments to China (+30.4 MoM) as an energy crisis increased demand for coal. Imports of raw materials (+1.8 MoM) and capital goods (+1.9 MoM) rose as economic activity recovered following further relaxation in mobility restrictions. Headline inflation increased 0.37% MoM in November, making a YoY inflation of 1.75% YoY from 1.66% in October. So far annual inflation has increased in five consecutive months. Food (0.21 ppt) and transportation (0.06 ppt) were the main drivers. Core inflation was up to 1.44% YoY, resulted from improving domestic demand and higher gold price. Bank Indonesia's 7 Day Reverse Repo remains 3.5% in November.
