Investment Manager Commentary

Indonesia financial market recorded a gain in February. Improvements in macro conditions and manageable pandemic attracted foreign investors in stock market, which entered the market with USD1.22b inflow. Rupiah was slightly corrected, by -0.10%, but still outperformed other currencies. The Indonesian bond market gain traction which mainly driven by the Individual investor as new retail investors consistently add exposure to the government bonds at the back of lower time deposit interest rate and the surge of market volatility. Despite the 10Y yield rose from 6.42% to 6.50%, the index still posted positive performance as some other bucket tenor yield dropped. Inflation is expected to increase due to higher commodity prices globally but is expected to remain below the 4% Bank Indonesia upper range. Direct impact from the Russia Ukraine conflict will likely to be limited due to low exposure in trade (0.8% of total Indonesia exports and 1.1% of imports) and investment (0.08% of FDI). Indirect impact from higher inflation will be more relevant.
