Investment Manager Commentary

Bond market was again under pressure in December amid stronger USD and lower expectation of Fed rate cut in 2025. The Fed's latest projection indicate a more gradual approach of rate cut with only 50bps cut for 2024, lower than 100bps in the previous forecast. Yield of 10Y bonds rose from 6.85% to 7.01%, inline with the 10Y UST yields movement which jumped 36bps from 4.17% to 4.53%. VAT rates increase plan was ultimately cancelled by the Finance Minister ahead of New Year's eve. Meanwhile the IDR38 trillion stimulus to cushion the impact of VAT hike remain in place for 2025, a positive factor to further support purchasing power. Bank Indonesia maintained BI Rate unchanged at 6% citing pressure on IDR amid stronger USD environment. BI emphasized policy focus it strengthen Rupiah stability. Domestic inflation came in at 1.57% YoY for 2024, a record low level. Yields rose across the tenor, with the 2-year bond rose the highest of 39bps.
