Investment Manager Commentary

Asia Pacific equities were positive in August, with Chinese equities outperformed the market. The market welcomed extension of US - China tariff negotiation for 90 days to November. Performance of Chinese equities were driven by increased retail participation from Chinese investors. Semiconductor stocks were boosted by China's ambitious target to triple chip supply by 2026. Technology-heavy markets like Taiwan and Korea consolidated after strong rallies in recent months amid tax reform uncertainty and US-tariff concerns in Taiwan. India equities underperformed in the month overshadowed by concern that the US will slap further tariffs against India to 50% due to India's oil and gas trade with Russia. Portfolio allocations in industrial contributed positive attributions, meanwhile allocations in healthcare was detractor to performance.
