Investment Manager Commentary

Indonesia equity market fell in October, extending September's correction in one of the market's sharpest sell-offs in recent history. The decline was triggered on 15 October, when MSCI proposed reclassifying Indonesia to Standalone Market status, citing a lack of consistent progress on market reforms. The announcement caused a record 11.6% single-day drop in the JCI on 16 October, the largest since 1998. In response, IDX announced transparency measures, including removing stocks with high shareholding concentration from index calculations and freezing accounts suspected of market manipulation. Foreign investors recorded net outflows of USD 1.0 billion during the month, nearly double September's outflow. The global backdrop remained challenging. The US 10-year Treasury yield rose to 5.34% in early October, its highest level since 2002. High US yields and a firm US dollar continued to weigh on emerging market currencies and capital flows. Bank Indonesia kept the BI-Rate at 5.75% and announced a phased 2-percentage-point cut in banks' reserve requirement ratio over November and December, which is expected to release around IDR90 trillion of liquidity into the banking system. Portfolio allocations in energy contributed positive attributions, meanwhile allocations in financials contributed negative attributions to performance.
